What a Week!

In all my years in education, I have never quite experienced a week like this week and we all appreciate the support that we have received from our whole community. The children have been fantastic at school and we have very much been getting on with things as normal and enjoying working and learning together.

We hope that you have found the work packs we have sent home useful and I am glad that we managed to get them out when we did. I also hope that your children have managed to sign into School360 and Seesaw. Staff will try to set activities on Seesaw as often as they can but please do not expect feedback as it will very much depend on the volume of pupil responses and our ability to still use the platform and educate the children of key workers and the vulnerable. If you cannot get onto these resources please let us know and we will work with you to solve any problems.

In true Holy Trinity style I think that all we can do at this time is try our best. Please try to have fun at home and take the learning from any situation you are naturally doing. A key focus should be the key maths and writing skills that your child needs and remember that reading, in all ways, is the most important thing that you can do.

If you do have any questions or worries, please get in touch with us and we will try to help in any way that we can. If we do not see you please keep safe and care for each other and we will look forward to the future when things can get back to normal.

Share the Miracle

Thank you to those who have donated Easter Eggs altogether we have had nearly 200. Class 5 have been busy labelling them and we have been lucky enough to receive extra donations from Morrisons and Berwick Police Station. We have been in touch with our local care homes and foodbank and will drop off the eggs to them. More than ever the gesture should help to bolster the spirits of people who may be feeling very vulnerable at the moment.

We would like to also thank Gillian Mitchell a retired Super Intendant from Northumbria police who has donated a Cream Egg for all the children in school today and the children have enjoyed an Easter Egg Hunt around school on what will be the last normal day of school for a while.

Prize Winners

Well done to our prize winners last week. It was an unusual assembly without parents but we carried on regardless.

This Week's Award Winners

Please remember the key Government advice that if children can stay safely at home, they should.

Your child will be unable to attend school unless we know that they are coming.

Picture News at Home

This could be another resource that you could use at home to stimulate discussion.

The topic next week is - Do you think that space tourism is a good idea?
